

ALL CLEWS FAIL IN $15,000 THEFT OF POTASH GEMS

No One Can Be Traced to Table Where Diamonds Were Insecurely Guarded.

Investigation by the police today failed to uncover any clues leading to the solution of the mysterious theft of $15,000 worth of diamonds from a "secret" drawer in the office of Julius Potash, diamond broker, at No. 71 Nassau street. The fact that the thief must have operated in the five minutes Mrs. Potash left the diamonds unguarded while she went to a lower floor in the building has made the mystery one of the most puzzling of the recent jewelry district robberies.

Detectives Armstrong and Brown, from the Old Slip station, have run down all apparent leads with no result. According to the Potashes, they removed the stones, which were all loose diamonds of varying sizes, from the safe deposit vault where they kept them every night and brought them to the office yesterday afternoon. Instead of putting the wallet of stones in his office safe, Potash said he stuck it in a table drawer which had a locking device consisting of a wire nail pushed into a gimlet hole on one side of the table.

Potash went out on business, leaving Mrs. Potash to guard the gems. She went to the lavatory on a lower floor for a few minutes and did not take the trouble to put the diamonds in the safe, in spite of the fact that she knew the secret of the nail-locked drawer was known to several of Potash's customers, who might be dropping in at any moment.

While she was absent there were fifteen workmen in another part of the office, none of whom saw any stranger enter or any one fumbling around Potash's table. When Mrs. Potash returned she began to scream hysterically and announced the discovery of the robbery. The police did not hear of it for several hours.

NOTES OF THE THEATRES.

The new performance of "Tad," Robert Chambers' delicious satire, which he has dramatized with the aid of Ben Toot, will be given at the Atlantic City Theatre. The play is a comedy, and will be the last of the season. The cast includes: Carl Johnston, Stuart Havel, Leslie Case, Gordon Keith, Richard Hendrix, Margaret Hedin, Marta Szwed, Hazel Kirk and Edna Temple.

The Green Room Club will give its annual entertainment Dec. 7 to the Grand Theatre. It will be a travesty on the "million" and among those who will take part will be William Brady, George J. Cohan, John Hanny, Raymond Mitchell and De Wolf Hopper.

Chorus rehearsals for "Star," the Hungarian opera Henry W. Savage will produce next month, were begun yesterday.

At the Palace Theatre next week Cyril Chavich and company will appear in a musical play, "Biting a Gun," in which U. V. Hunter is playing the lead.

The Haydn opera company will hold their annual ball to-morrow night at Palm Garden. At a special meeting of the Drama Society in the Haydn opera company will be given a play, "The House of the Dead," by John Hanny, and W. V. U. Foy, one of the players in "Tad."

John Pickford has decided to give up the legitimate stage and return to the screen. He will act in the first of his new films, "The Great Train Robbery," for the Famous Players-Lasky Company.

SAID HE'D KILL HIMSELF.

Paralytic Dies in Convulsions After Suicide Threat.

Leopold Holzman, who had kept a dry goods store at No. 282 Brook avenue, the Bronx, for some years, died at his home this morning under conditions which the Coroner is investigating. Holzman had been a partial paralytic ever since a serious illness some years ago and was much depressed in consequence. Yesterday he told his wife that if he didn't get better soon he would kill himself. Dr. M. B. Fried was called in several times yesterday and again at 2 o'clock this morning, when he found Holzman in convulsions. He was unable to diagnose the man's illness and, shortly afterward, Holzman died.

The doctor thought the indications of poisoning sufficient to warrant him in notifying the Coroner and the case is entered on the police blotter as a suicide.

Simplicity Is the Keynote of the Success of Our Wonderful New Scale Walters 88-Note Player Piano

EVEN a child can produce the best musical effects. All you are required to do is to keep time with your feet in order to give expression to your musical feelings. Pedal vigorously if you want to play loud; lightly if you wish to play soft. It is natural for the feet to give expression to your musical feelings. They march or dance to music. Every variation of strength and pedaling is instantly transmitted to the bellows, which work the hammers just as the human fingers strike the keys.

"A marvel of mechanical ingenuity and a distinct triumph for musical quality" is the consensus of opinion of every one who has seen our new scale Walters 88-Note Player Piano. It contains the very latest improvements and the most advanced ideas in player construction. The perfect ease with which the Walters Player Piano can be operated is truly marvelous; it responds quickly, even when pedaling very lightly. The player mechanism contains a perfected system of double valves; the tubings are of metal, which is more durable than rubber. The expression devices are unique, and make it possible to produce the most delicate shadings of tone. The simple insertion of a music roll enables any one to play his favorite music, whether popular or classical. It can also be played by hand in the usual way, the player mechanism in no way interfering with the performer.

The Reputation of the House of Bloomingdale Is Your Absolute Safeguard Against a Piano of Inferior Quality

As the sole owners of the Walters Piano Company, the manufacturers of the Walters Pianos and Player Pianos, we positively know that only the best materials are used in the construction and that only the most skilled workmen are employed to build them. Therefore we guarantee them unqualifiedly.
